

Glazes

Keen on quality; keen on cost

Fourayes industrial glazes are the first choice when it comes to quality, provenance and keen pricing. That is because at Fourayes we go “way beyond fruit”, with service levels that are second to none.

Since 1953, Fourayes has been growing great English fruit and is now a UK market-leader in fruit processing; including Bramley apple, Strawberry, Raspberry, Blackcurrant and other soft fruits. Kentish provenance is included at no extra cost!

To compliment our industrial jam range, Fourayes bespoke industrial glazes are made to individual requirements and tolerances. We use the best possible ingredients and our production team boasts over 60 years experience in delivering exceptional industrial products.

Whilst quality is high, thanks to lean manufacturing and a sophisticated high-end production control system, costs are keen.

Plant

Our vacuum plant produces superior quality products with exceptional flavour and colour delivery and no caramelisation.

As with all processes at Fourayes, the production of glazes is subject to high levels of control and high tolerances to ensure consistent quality, flavour and colour. Through recipe and process control we are able to provide products that we are proud of.

For example, to maintain quality, industrial products are made in batches of 600 kilos for optimum control.

Products

Fourayes industrial glazes come as smooth and pump able products for use on confectionery products such as tarts, tartlets and cakes, enhancing the appearance to give a delicious fresh “eat me” appeal.
